

Love Opens Up The Way
J.H. Carters

When human life on Earth began, they toiled from day to day;
But when perplexed and in despair, Love opened up the way.
When they perceived the way of right, it set their hearts aglow;
Love showed to them the shining path, the way that they should go.

Let us while tossed by storm and flood, move up without delay;
While lightning flash and thunders roll, Love opens up the way.
When we advance to higher ground, our loving service give,
When man subdues this Earth 'twill a Heavenly place to live.

Painting by: Lida Sherfatmand